FEDERALS GAINING VICTORY OVER THE REBELS; NO NEWS FROM CASAS GRANDES

troopers, to determine the amount of damage done. They left yesterday and are not expected to return for a week. It is believed that it will take more than a month for the track to be put in order. A crew went out a few days ago to repair the telegraphic wires. Unofficially it is stated that Chihuahua and Madera will be in communication shortly.

Contrary to the report sent out and currently circulated on the streets here that Col. Vallejo had died, he is not only still alive but is getting along well, and there is now every hope that he will recover.

Future Action.
With the forces of Gen. Luque and Heartburn is a symptom of indigestion. Take a dose of HERBINE instantly. The bowels operate speedily and you feel fine, vigorous and cheerful. Price 50c. Sold by Scott & White Co., 204 Mills street, and Depot Pharmacy.

Navarro united, they will make their plans to pursue the bands of insurgents and to march to Guerrero to take that town.

There will be a force of 500 federal troops to cover the opening of Mal Paso canyon and hold it open to federalists.

The plans of the federal troops under Gen. Luque and Navarro contemplate putting into shape for safe passage the whole line of the North Western railway, along which a number of bridges have been blown up. Stretches of track have also been destroyed and rails have completely disappeared. All these will have to be restored, and the road put into shape so as to leave an open way behind the troops for the introduction of supplies of war clothing and provisions.

It will, therefore, be some time at the earliest, unless the insurgents quit, before the federal troops can reasonably expect to march into Guerrero, the headquarters and stronghold of the insurgents.

General Navarro holds the houses and the railroad station at Pedernales, while the revolutionists are hidden in the nearby hills, but at a considerable distance from Pedernales.

Bull Postponed.
Invitations to the society ball which was to have been given last night by the Chihuahua Foreign club, were suddenly recalled yesterday, the dance being indefinitely postponed.

This is the second social affair of the kind which has recently been postponed here, both of which are believed to have been occasioned by the insurrecto trouble.

NO NEWS FROM CASAS GRANDES

Last Report on Wednesday Night, Declared Town Was Being Attacked.

There is much misgiving as to what has occurred at Casas Grandes, as no definite information has been received from that city since Thursday afternoon. Telegraph wires along the Mexico North Western have not been repaired below Guzman, and the only messages received from Casas Grandes came Wednesday by way of the federal telegraph wires from Ascension, which is on overland ride of 40 miles. This message said the town was being attacked.

News that there is a large body of men near Casas Grandes was received late Thursday afternoon in Ciudad Juarez. George Rutledge, superintendent of the local division of the North Western, telephoned from kilometer 118, where he remained Thursday night, that he had heard of between 400 and 500 men being in the vicinity of Casas Grandes and another band at the San Pedro mining district. No fighting was reported. He did not give the source of his information, but it is thought that the news came from a line man who arrived Thursday at the work train, the line man coming from San Pedro. This line man returned south, and was heard from Friday morning at Ciudad Juarez. His message was relayed at Guzman, he evidently having repaired the line as far as Sahinal. The information received was merely that no insurrectos had been seen as far south as Sahinal, which is about midway between Guzman and San Pedro, the center of the mining district where the Candelaria and Leon mines are located.

An indication that there is a set date for something to happen, lies in that the insurrectos early this week told a company line man not to repair any wires until after January 5. No reason for the request was given.

Superintendent Rutledge remained Thursday night on his train north of Guzman, but he reached that station Friday. He had seen no insurrectos but he had seen the scattered bands who watched his movements on the preceding trip. The superintendent expects to repair his bridges so as to reach Guzman in the work train sometime Friday. He made a preliminary outfit on a car.

Troops Operating Out of Juarez.
Small detachments of federal soldiers are guarding the international line near Ciudad Juarez. It is believed that this was the original intention of sending the reinforcements to the local garrison, now containing about 225 infantrymen.

The discovery about two weeks ago of empty ammunition boxes at the Flores ranch, four miles west of Ciudad Juarez at the foot of the mountains, is said to have caused this watchfulness, to prevent more smuggling of arms or ammunition. The large territory along the boundary, the majority of which is uninhabited, makes the task difficult.

A detachment of 25 soldiers marched through Juarez Thursday evening, and did not return until relieved by another body of about the same number, which departed Friday morning. These men marched east of the city and down the Rio Grande. It is believed that other detachments are being sent up the river to guard the border to the west. If so they depart in the night from the garrison, which is located at the southwest of the city.

THE "VICTORY" AT MAL PASO, CHIA.

Official Reports are Somewhat Hazy as to Federal Action.

(By Associated Press.)
Mexico City, Mex., Dec. 30.—Mal Paso, said to have been the stronghold of the revolutionists in the state of Chihuahua, was captured yesterday by the federal forces, according to telegrams received by government officials here.

The officials told the Associated Press correspondent that as soon as troops under Gen. Luque captured the place, the federal forces, according to telegrams received by government officials here.

The officials told the Associated Press correspondent that as soon as troops under Gen. Luque captured the place, the federal forces, according to telegrams received by government officials here.

The troops advanced toward Mal Paso and were fired upon from the sides of the canyon by the revolutionists.

Col. Escudero ordered his men to advance upon their position and after a sharp skirmish the revolutionists fled.

Just why the federals should have gone through Mal Paso to get to Navarro and then have come back "to repulse the insurrectos" seems a puzzle. It is believed that the federals found the pass deserted when they arrived from Chihuahua, went through it to the relief of Navarro, and that nothing more happened.

SYMPATHY HERE WITH INSURGENTS

Many El Pasoans Contribute to Buy Ammunition for Pronunciados.

It is known in Juarez that El Paso Mexicans are holding regular meetings in various parts of the city, and contributing to a general fund to push the attempted revolution. At one of these meetings, on South Stanton street, every man present to the very poorest gave $5 to buy ammunition. It is rumored as well that an arms company agent is negotiating for the sale of six machine guns. There will be little difficulty in securing expert operators of these guns, as many American soldiers are known to be waiting in El Paso for developments.

Business Men of El Paso

Endorse the International Business College because they find its graduates ready for practical work on entering their office, and do not have to waste time in training them in up-to-date methods or in correcting faulty English. They can always rely upon the recommendations of the teachers in this school as to the exact qualifications of any office help required.

Begin the new year right. Quit looking for a "job." Call at the college and learn how easy it is to prepare for a good position.
